

COMPANY L SPENDS WEEK AT CAMPLocal Guards Find Annual Encampment Pleasant and Instructive

With nearly its entire roster Company L, under command of Captain Forest Himes, departed on the Northwestern passenger train at 5:35 Saturday morning for the annual encampment at Camp Douglas. Two special coaches were provided for the conveyance of the company. The boys arrived at their destination without mishap and according to advices received daily this week are having a pleasant and profitable week in camp.

The Second Infantry arrived at Camp Douglas Saturday, the Third regiment having closed its encampment Friday with the exception of the rifleman, twelve from each company remaining for shooting Friday and Saturday. The Second arrived with three new companies, giving it a strength far larger than the command has ever had in camp before. The new supply company from Green Bay arrived Friday, having been ordered on duty a day in advance of the regiment to arrange for issuing the tentage. The company is under the command of Capt. U. G. Carl of Oshkosh, regimental quartermaster.

The new machine gun company from Ashland arrived at 3 o'clock Saturday morning. The other new organization is the Mounted Orderlies from Appleton. The detachment has just been equipped. Appleton is represented in the camp with infantry, mounted troops and a hospital corps detachment. The Second Infantry band from Marshfield has thirty-five pieces.

Horses are here for the mounted orderlies and mules for the machine guns and hospital corps, the guns of the former and supplies of the latter being carried on pack mules.

The first train to arrive was the special carrying the Oshkosh, Ripon and Beaver Dam companies. Another special carried the soldiers from Appleton, Sheboygan, Manitowoc and Fond du Lac and the third had those from Marinette, Oconto, Marshfield and Rhinelander.

MONSTER MUSKY

One of the largest muskallonge captured in Oneida county waters this summer was on exhibition Tuesday forenoon in the display window of Roden & Carling's meat market on Brown street. The fish, which was of the tiger variety, weighed, according to a card in the window, 49½ pounds, although it was later ascertained that its real weight was 33 pounds. Nevertheless, it was a beautiful specimen of the finny tribe and the crowd which it attracted resembled that around a big city bulletin board eager for war news.

The fish was caught by Albert Donnerstag while trolling in Manson lake, near Woodboro. R. J. Rapple, a Chicago man, was in the boat with Donnerstag at the time and it required over an hour for the two to land the monster. As would be expected his muskyship put up a wicked fight and more than once came near swamping the boat. Mr. Rapple shipped the fish to Chicago where it will no doubt be the means of causing a sudden influx of sportsmen to the lakes of Oneida county.

CARDINALS LOSE
BY CLOSE SCORE

The Cardinals suffered another defeat at the hands of the fast Starks aggregation of ball tossers at that village Sunday afternoon. 15 to 12 was the tune to which the locals were trimmed. The game was featured by heavy hitting on both sides as the score would indicate. On account of the roughness of the diamond brilliant fielding was almost impossible.

About one hundred enthusiastic Starks fans witnessed the combat. Eddy Graef, the Cardinals' star south-paw, was retired in favor of Kennedy in the fifth inning. Roy Willis for Starks was able to hold his own at all stages of the game. Lloyd Cain and Frank Mount of Rhinelander, played with Starks, the former doing the receiving and the latter holding down second base. Batteries—Cardinals, Graef, Kennedy and W. Hack. Starks, Willis and L. Cain.

Misses Mae Cox and Margaret Zelich of Chicago are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Markham.

SEVERAL GOING TO ST. ANNE

According to local Soo line officials several Rhinelander people contemplate making the annual pilgrimage to the Shrine of St. Anne De Beaupre near Quebec. Each year this pilgrimage is made by Catholics and others interested in the miracles wrought at this shrine.

In this chapel are thousands of crutches which have been thrown away by the cripples that came there and were cured of their affliction. The basilica of St. Anne is a beautiful structure, and represents one of the finest buildings of its kind in the world.

The original church of St. Anne which has been in existence for so many years was replaced by an entirely new edifice in 1878. The old church threatened to fall into ruin so it was found necessary to take it down and it was converted into a chapel on the same spot.

Each year thousands of people from all parts of Canada and the United States come to the shrine of St. Anne De Beaupre. Remarkable cases of diseased and distorted limbs rendered safe and sound and cures which were considered impossible resulted from a visit to the shrine.

APPLYING TARVIA ON BROWN STREET

Brown street from Davenport to Rives street is being coated with Tarvia, a cold tar preparation manufactured by the Barrett Manufacturing Company of Milwaukee. This application of Tarvia is being given as a demonstration, the city paying only for the material consumed. About sixteen barrels of the preparation will be required to treat the section of street here. Tarvia is applied with brushes and readily hardens. After the coating is completed a layer of sand is sprinkled over it and this working into the preparation makes a satisfactory and durable paving.

L. G. Quigley, who is in charge of the demonstration states that Tarvia is used exclusively on Milwaukee streets and is meeting with favor in other large cities. It is both cheap and durable; costs about 3 cents a square yard and requires but two coatings in five to six years.

A CURIOUS FISH

Bowfin is the name given for the curious fish on display at the meat market of Roden & Carling Wednesday. This fish, which weighed about two pounds and resembled a combination of eel, muskallonge and trout, caused those versed in "fishology" to shake their heads in doubt as to its variety. Many voiced the opinion that it was a freak fish and was not of any particular order. The mystery was finally cleared when the dictionary was brought into service and it was learned that the stranger was nothing more or less than a bowfin. Of the bowfin Webster says:

"A voracious ganoid fish of the order Holosteii, found in the fresh waters of the Great Lakes, Mississippi Valley, etc.; the mudfish. It is of little value as food but is remarkable as the only living representative of the suborder Cyclopteroidei." The fish was hooked by Rev. C. H. Dinsmore in Manson lake and as far as is known is the only one of its kind ever caught in this vicinity.

20TH ANNIVERSARY

Saturday evening the Scandinavian hall on north Brown street presented a scene of gaiety when one of the largest Scandinavian-American assemblies ever seen in this city gathered to celebrate the twentieth anniversary of the S. H. & E. F. of A. lodge. An interesting program was given, consisting of musical and literary numbers.

Alfred Peterson, Andrew Wick, Christ Lund and Hugo Johnson, assisted by the young ladies, had charge of the refreshments. Ice cream, sandwiches and coffee were served. Olson and Jewett furnished the music.

The occasion was one which will be long and pleasantly remembered by all present.

BOAT CLUB MEETING
There will be a regular meeting of the Rhinelander Boat Club at the city council rooms Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The meeting will be called to consider necessary work and arrange for a readjustment of the markings of the channel in the Wisconsin river. As this is a very important meeting all members of the club are requested to be present.

LARGE CROWDS ATTEND
CITY'S FIRST CHAUTAUQUAExcellent Programs Mark Each
Day of Wisconsin Week

Rhinelander's first Chautauqua began Sunday afternoon. From the opening session the interest and enthusiasm has been steadily growing. The attendance is even better than was hoped for; last evening about 1000 filling the large tent in Keenan's park.

On the first day Grossman's Hungarian Orchestra was the musical treat. This splendid organization gave two most delightful concerts.

The lecturer on the opening day was Professor William H. Kieckhefer, of the Department of Economics and Sociology of the University. Mr. Kieckhefer spoke in the afternoon on "The Springs of Happiness."

The lecture was a portrayal of the ends worth while in individual and social effort; a survey of the values in life most conducive to human happiness. "From the earliest awakening of man's reflective consciousness until that consciousness ceases man's most ardent desire is to be happy, and life knows no greater tragedy than when he becomes convinced that happiness for him is impossible." With an abundance of illustrative facts drawn from individual life and social conditions, the speaker described pleasure and wealth, position and knowledge as springs to which men and women go in quest of happiness and often fail to find it. "Happiness, individual and social, only comes through self realization, and the fullest self realization is possible only in the service of one's fellow men." Thus did the speaker blend the old Stoic ideal of self realization with the Christian ideal of service.

Professor Kieckhefer's second lecture was on the "Crusades of Today."

"Beholding the culmination in the present world catastrophe of sordid materialism and crass selfishness of nations, many people are inclined to say that the romance and idealism of the crushing spirit have forever gone. But as I contemplate some of the great social, economic, and political movements of the day, enlisting the enthusiastic and self-sacrificing devotion of millions the world over, I am inclined to think that there was never more romance or idealism in the world than in the crusades of today." This was one of the opening statements of Professor Kieckhefer in his lecture in the evening, entitled, "The Crusades of Today." The peace, woman, eugenic, temperance, and labor movements, the movement against commercialization, progressivism and socialism were all interpreted as partaking of the nature of crusades and calling for the spirit of the crusaders on the part of their champions. Professor Kieckhefer gave his attention particularly to phases of the peace, woman, and labor movements which illustrated his topic.

JOHN DAVIS DIES
FROM PNEUMONIA

John Davis, who has for a number of years been engaged in the saloon business in this city, died suddenly from acute pneumonia in St. Mary's hospital Monday morning. He was taken to the hospital at about 6:30 o'clock that morning and one hour later breathed his last. Mr. Davis first complained of feeling ill Sunday evening but his condition was not thought to be serious and the news of his death Monday came as a shock to his friends.

Although Mr. Davis had long been a resident of Rhinelander little is known of his relatives or early life. He is believed to have formerly resided in Alpena, Mich., and is thought to have relatives in that part of the country. A sister is also said to live in Maine.

The funeral was conducted Wednesday afternoon from Nick's undertaking rooms and the services were conducted by Rev. C. H. Dinsmore of the Baptist church.

ORGANIZE LARGE CHOIR

A mixed choir of twenty-five singers has been organized among the members of the Norwegian Lutheran church. H. Jentoft is the director and rehearsals are being regularly conducted. The choir plans to give its first public concert early in the fall.

Miss Katherine Brown is in Wausau the guest of Miss Norma Edmonds.

Dr. William Forbush was the lecturer on the second day. His talk in the afternoon on "The Boy Problem" was one every parent ought to have heard. Dr. Forbush is a lover of boys and has worked with them and for them for years. He possesses a practical insight into the reasons that make the successful rearing of the boy a problem in any home. In the evening Dr. Forbush talked on the "Art of Story Telling." Every teacher and every parent in the county should have heard this address.

Dr. Forbush is an entertaining speaker and was closely followed by his hearers.

The musical numbers on Monday were furnished by the Illinois Glee Club. These four young men gave programs that were most enthusiastically received, both afternoon and evening. Selections with the Swiss bells were also very pleasing.

The musical attraction of Tuesday was Thatcher's Orchestra of 21 pieces. This is without doubt the finest orchestra that ever visited this part of the state and their audiences were enthralled by the beautiful melody.

Father H. C. Hengel gave an eloquent address on "The Borderland of Reason," in the afternoon.

He showed that reason is not the development of animal instinct and that reason's highest purpose is to show that mind is over matter and that God is over all.

In the evening W. B. Leffingwell spoke on "Seeing America First." He showed the most beautiful pictures ever seen in this part of the state.

Wednesday's program seemed to advance the already high standard set by the previous days. The Mossler Dramatic club presented the most amusing sketches and reading in the most able manner. Dr. Edwin Lanham more than sustained his press reputation. A man with a message and no dull thoughts or movements while delivering. His address was well received.

Each evening the program opens with Community Music, in which the director, Mr. Mitchell, is working strenuously to get everybody participating.

At the close of each evening's programs two reels of educational moving pictures are shown.

At 10 A. M. and at 3:30 P. M. the children meet to listen to stories and to play games under the leadership of Miss Bayless, assisted by Miss Seibel of this city.

The programs will continue till Friday evening. The following attractions are yet to appear.

Mr. J. A. Manahan and L. L. Wirt, lecturers; the Doorak Trio, and the Tuskegee Institute Singers.

BOY SCOUTS CAMP

Much interest is manifested by visitors to the Chautauqua grounds in the camp of the Boy Scouts. The boys are spending the entire week on the grounds and are enjoying real outdoor life or in other words are "roughing it." When it is necessary for errands to be run or other light tasks to be done about the grounds the Scouts are called into service and their efficiency and promptness in performing these assignments is commendable. The boys take great pride in doing all things well. The nightly campfires are one of the most pleasant features of their encampment.

KICKED BY HORSE

Word was received from Tomahawk Tuesday afternoon that Francis Schuppler, a well known farmer of the town of Crescent, had been kicked by a horse and was in a critical condition in a hospital there. The nurse who gave the message over the telephone stated that Mr. Schuppler's prospects for recovery were slight. No further particulars have been received here. A Schuppler, a brother of the injured man, left Tuesday night by auto for Tomahawk.

John Sells and son Curtis of Sheboygan, who are guests at Woodcock's Sunflower Cottage on Tomahawk Lake were in the city the fore part of the week visiting M. H. Barton and other friends.

FRIDAY LAST DAY
OF CHAUTAUQUATuskegee Singers And Dr. Lincoln Wirt Will Appear On Final Program

Friday is the sixth and final day of Rhinelander's first Chautauqua. This promises to be one of the most enjoyable days of the course and the program consists of two excellent features, Dr. Lincoln L. Wirt, lecturer; and the Tuskegee Institute Singers, eight students from Booker T. Washington's school. Don't miss this last day of "Wisconsin Week."

Perils of Frözen North
Dr. Lincoln L. Wirt, who lectures at the Chautauqua Friday, is one of the most noted lecturers on the lecture platform today and none holds a more affectionate place in the hearts of the American people.

Dr. Wirt was formerly Territorial Superintendent of Public Instruction in Alaska, and while holding that position he was sent by the Governor on an expedition to a mining camp on Bering Strait. The expedition was wrecked, and shortly after his arrival at the camp Mr. Wirt found it necessary to make a return trip to civilization. The story of that trip is full of thrills. He went alone, having only an occasional Eskimo guide, and some of these guides were treacherous. His dogs became exhausted until they were hardly able to draw the sled. Their feet were worn by the sharp ice until they left their bleeding foot prints on the ice and snow. He himself had to use every vestige of will power to force himself to keep up to the end of the journey. But he won out, and as a result of his trip a schoolhouse was erected in that mining camp, a United States mail route which carries mail regularly was founded, and today those pioneers are much better off because of the loyal service of Dr. Wirt. Dr. Wirt has seen much of the world. He will give two lectures on the sixth day of the Chautauqua.

Tuskegee Institute Singers
Perhaps no institution in the United States since the Civil War has accomplished more for the amelioration of conditions among the colored people of the South than Booker T. Washington's great Institute at Tuskegee, Alabama. Washington's idea has been that the colored race can be elevated only by means of manual labor. It is a genuine joy to come into touch with some of the excellent young men who are being educated in this institution. They learn every manly virtue, and most of them become valuable citizens. The colored company from this school which will appear on the Wisconsin Week program has a reputation of being the best company of colored singers in the world. Three of the young men are graduates of the Institute, one is a professor in the Institute, and the others are students. Professor Neely, who directs the quartette, will spend a few minutes' time in explaining the work of the Institute. Mr. Neely has a fine personality, and will arouse great enthusiasm in the audience by his talk. The songs that are sung by the company will ring in the ears of the audience many weeks after the Wisconsin Week is over. One song alone, "The Watermelon Hanging on the Vine," will be worth the price of the entire week. These young men are highly educated, earnest young men who know how to sing.

At the banquet commemorating the twentieth anniversary of the S. H. & E. F. of A. lodge of this city, at the Scandinavian hall Saturday night, Messrs. Andrew Olson and Andrew Wick were each presented with a gold emblem charm. The tokens were given to the gentlemen for faithful and loyal service in the lodge since its organization. Past Supreme President A. C. Danielson made the presentation speech.

The front of the charm bears the monogram of the order and the reverse side is engraved with the inscription "Presented by Lodge 22, S. H. & E. F. of A. to (name of recipient) on July 12th, 1915."

TAKE MOVIES OF DAM LAKE VIEWS

Five members of the I. C. U. Film Company of Chicago were at Dam Lake on the Sugar Camp chain last Friday and Saturday filming for a moving picture play.

This company has been endeavoring to get the right touch in scenery near some old dam for the portrayal of an elopement. The stunt to be pulled off by the elopers called for a motor row boat race through the sluiceway between the couple and irate parent. The Dam Lake dam furnished the thrills and scenery necessary and excellent films were secured.

The staging of this act alone cost nearly $300.—Vilas County News.

21 APPLY FOR
"SPUD" INSPECTION

So far twenty-one farmers from Oneida county have applied for state inspection of their potato fields this year. Only fifteen applied last year. The application blanks were to have been received at the Horticultural Dept. at Madison by July 15 but J. G. Milward, Secy. of the State Potato Growers' Association has just announced that the time has been extended to July 21. Anyone who may have neglected to get his application blank in prior to this time can send it in now and it will be accepted. The blanks may be had from the County Representative at any time.

VETOS GRELL BILL

Governor Philipp has vetoed the Grell bill allowing the opening of saloons after closing of polls on primary or special election days. "The law which forbids the sale of liquor on election day has been on our statute books for 56 years. I know of no former attempt to amend it and I believe it to be the will of the people of Wisconsin that it be not changed," said the governor.

FIND SPURIOUS
COINING OUTFIT

Woodsmen Discover Old Counterfeiting Tools In Deserted Shack

Reports of an old counterfeiting outfit having been discovered in a shack near Newald recently were brought to this city Monday by two woodsmen, who spent the night at the Alpine Hotel. The men claimed to have accidentally run across the outfit when they entered the shack for shelter during a storm. The building had not been occupied for some time and was in a dilapidated condition. While rummaging about the place they came across the counterfeiter's tools stored away under a bunk. The dies had been broken and gave evidence of not having been used for years. Other parts of the outfit were in similar shape. The men did not make their find known to the authorities as they considered it of no importance, and after the storm, resumed their hike through the woods, giving the incident little thought.

As far as is known it has been many years since any spurious coins have been in circulation in this part of the country. If the story of the woodsmen can be believed, the outfit which they found, must have been an old crude affair which had probably never been put into practical use.

PROSPEROUS SCOTS

A. B. Wilson, proprietor of the tailor shop in the Arlington block, is in receipt of a letter from a brother in Glasgow, Scotland, from whom he had not heard in twenty-four years. The brother states that times at present are exceedingly prosperous in the land of the heather; everybody who is able to work is employed and wages are good while the cost of living is not as high as it is in America. All manufacturing plants are running full time. According to the writer several thousand Scotchmen who have long been residents of the United States have returned to Glasgow within the last few months, attracted by the abundance of work and substantial wages.

In Scotland especially the European war has had a tendency to produce good times. The prospects are that these conditions will exist indefinitely.

ELKS PLAN PICNIC

An Elks picnic to be held either at Stevens Point or Wausau is being planned by the Elks lodges of Wausau, Grand Rapids and Stevens Point. Lodges from all over northern Wisconsin, will be invited to attend. Rhinelander Elks will be asked to send their base ball team.

EVENTS OF WEEK IN NEARBY TOWNS

Hayward—
Paul Jeffreys, said to be a prominent resident of Indianapolis, Ind., accidentally shot and instantly killed himself while on a hunting trip near Goodwin's lodge thirty miles out from here Friday afternoon. Jeffreys and his guide after spending the morning hunting had stopped for dinner and before preparing it had laid their guns in the brush. When through their meal they went to pick up their weapons, approaching from in front and pulling them toward them. The hammer of Jeffreys' gun caught in the brush and the full load was discharged into his side. He died almost immediately. The deceased was about 30 years old. The body will be sent to Indianapolis to day.

Crandon—
Governor Philipp on Wednesday signed a full pardon for Bert McLain, the boy from Fence, who was sentenced by W. B. Quinn to thirteen years in state's prison, for rape. McLain has served about three years of his sentence. Attorney W. A. Wescott of this city, was attorney for McLain in the application for the pardon. McLain's friends who believed him unjustly sentenced have worked unceasingly for his release.

Stevens Point—
The largest number of saloons in Stevens Point, so it is said, was in 1907. At that time fifty-one were in operation. Certain it is that the lowest number in operation for many years is at the present time. Last year there were forty-six. At the last meeting of the council forty-three licenses were granted, but three of those to whom they were given have changed their minds and will not engage in the saloon business during the present year.

Washburn—
Two more coaches were added to the train on the Omaha line between this city and the plant of the du Pont company at Barksdale, making a total of thirteen coaches now used to carry the workmen from this city to the plant. The du Pont company is building four lines at their works near this city and more than 1,600 men are now employed. There are more men employed in Washburn this season than ever before. Business is booming.

Merrill—
The Merrill Railway & Lighting company announces it will surrender its charter and no cars are running. This is the first time in more than twenty-five years since the line was built that the company has not operated its cars, although for years it was a losing proposition. Merrill has had the distinction of having had the second street railway in the state operated by electricity. The first was at Appleton.

Shawano—
W. Siekman and his son, Albert, Appleton, are said to be made millionaires by the decision of an Oklahoma court a few days ago in the case of the Asphalt Oil Co. against the Interstate Oil & Gas Co. The plaintiff's land had been bought on foreclosure sale by the defendant company, and later rich oil wells were discovered. The Asphalt Co. sued to have the sale set aside. The court dismissed the action after hearing the plaintiff's case. Attorney A. S. Larson who helped try the case, says the output of the wells is reckoned at $100,000 a year.

MUST KEEP OUT OF SALOONS
Realizing more and more the truth of the assertion that railroad and boozing cannot successfully be carried on together more strict do the big railway companies become on the liquor question. The New North has it on good authority that the Soo line mechanical department has just issued to its employees an order forbidding them to enter saloons either while on duty or off duty. The order is plain and to the point and promises immediate dismissal should it be violated. The order also states that employees will be carefully watched and warns them to exercise caution.

OAT SMUT IS DISCOVERED HERE

During his recent trips around the county the Agricultural Representative has found several fields of oats badly infected with smut. This is a condition seldom, if ever, found in the county before, and one which means much to the successful growing of oats as smut ordinarily decreases our yield from 5 to 20 per cent. The fortunate part though is that the disease can be entirely prevented and at a very small cost, too. The prevention lies in treating the seed with formaldehyde immediately before it is sown. This can be done at a cost of less than a cent a bushel. Attention is called to this disease at this time so that farmers may examine their oatfield carefully and then if any smut is found can make arrangements to treat their seed for their next year's crop. The Agricultural Representative will be glad to furnish full directions for this treatment. By guarding against this disease at the first appearance this county will avoid the heavy losses which have made oat growing unprofitable in many of the older states. Look closely for the black smutted heads and if the disease is found, prepare carefully for its prevention in all future crops.

WHY AUTOS TURN TURTLE

On account of the large number of automobiles turning turtle nowadays, killing and maiming many of the occupants, there has been much thought on the matter by which such accidents will be less frequent. It has been said apparently with good logic, that the turning over of automobiles is not caused by bad roads or fast driving; it is because the driver loses his head and consequently control of the machine. The driver of an automobile when in danger of turning turtle feels the wheels skidding into the ditch and intuitively turns the front wheels to the center of the road. This has a tendency to turn the machine at right angles to the direction of the momentum and turning over is inevitable if the machine is running at a brisk speed. Instead of doing this thing, the old and experienced driver will turn the front wheels to the bottom of the ditch when the rear wheels are felt skidding; he remains that way until he has the machine under control. The principal of the rule is that as long as the wheels are kept in line of momentum the car cannot turn over but as soon as the machine is headed across the line of motion then it must roll, if the rate of speed attained is sufficiently great.

ANOTHER EASY MARK

Mike Peskin of Ironwood, Mich., is conducting a still hunt for the man who sold him a secret, enabling him to turn a crank, and make one dollar bills into two, so to speak, says the Ashland Press.

George Harbeck of Fond du Lac was the man who agreed to let Mike in on the good thing. He showed how easily it was done, and then induced Mike to draw $700 from the bank, it is charged. The money was put in a trunk where it had to stay three days it was explained to Mike. When he opened the trunk on the third day, however, he found not $1,400 or even $700, but just a bunch of old papers.

PEAVY QUITS FAIR BOARD

H. H. Peavey of Washburn resigned at the meeting of the state fair board Saturday afternoon, after condemning Gov. Philipp for his attitude toward the board. Mr. Peavey objected to the use of his name and his picture in the premium book for the next fair, saying that he had given notice that he did not wish to serve. His action was taken after the board had decided to accept the governor's invitation to continue making arrangements for the coming fair.

INSTITUTE SUCCESSFUL

The success of the farmers' institutes in the summer season just closed is indicated in a report filed with Dean H. L. Russell by Supt. C. P. Norgard. Seventy meetings were held in sixteen counties, with a total attendance of 5,626, an average attendance of 84. The total cost of the meetings was $363.32, or $5.05 per meeting. The total number of meetings of all kinds during the year was 287, the number attending was 60,121, and the average per session, 200.

Right Up Among the Live Wires

The hardy lads who hold down the lineman's job are keen for a tobacco that has a rich, natural flavor—something that's man-size and all there—something that makes a he-man feel like a live wire. And that is

STANDARD Long Cut Tobacco

We've spent fifty years and millions of dollars creating tobacco brands. And we know that the reason STANDARD pleases the hearty smoker is because its quality is honest and its value the biggest.

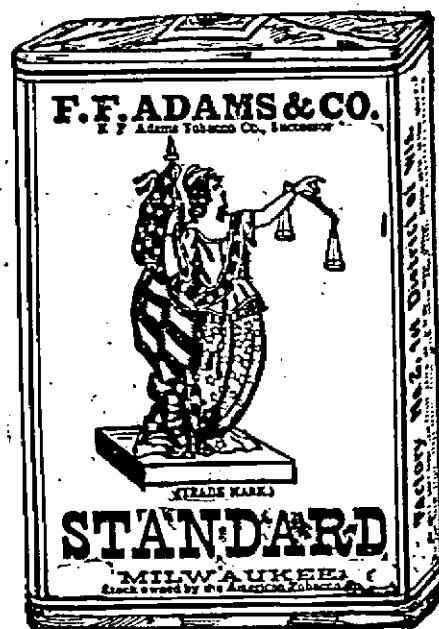

We use pure Kentucky leaf in STANDARD. We carefully age it for three to five years so as to bring out its full richness. The process can't be hurried. So you see no other tobacco can be the same as STANDARD—and STANDARD itself can never vary in quality.

No matter what tobacco you may be smoking now, just try STANDARD for a week, and see if STANDARD doesn't give you greater satisfaction, day in and day out, working or resting, outdoors or indoors. By the end of the week you'll be a permanent user of STANDARD.

The Wisconsin State Institutions use CALUMET BAKING POWDER—one of the strongest evidences of the efficiency and wholesomeness of CALUMET

One More Reason Why You Should Use

—and it is the best possible argument in favor of the use of—
CALUMET BAKING POWDER

Read the statement in the oval! It tells the result of an exhaustive investigation and careful chemical analysis by a committee of eminent and competent pure food authorities—men who are anxious and determined to purchase for the state absolutely nothing but the purest of foods—men capable of judging food quality. It is an official endorsement for Calumet Baking Powder backed by that of millions of experienced housewives—women who have tried all Baking Powders and found Calumet the best.

This indisputable state committee evidence is proof of Calumet superiority—Calumet purity—uniformity of leavening strength—wonderful economy and absolute certainty of results.

If you are not using Calumet Baking Powder you are not getting the best bake day results. Order a can now on our money-back guarantee. Bake everything with it—count the saving in cash—in materials—in time! Note the tasteful, tempting, light and fluffy bakings it produces—see what a relief it is to enjoy bake-day certainty. Never have you had such wonderful bakings. Remember, you risk nothing on this trial—if Calumet does not prove more than exceptional, your grocer will refund your money.

Received highest awards World's Pure Food Exposition, Chicago, Paris Exposition, France, March, 1912.

All grocers sell it—their wives use it!

RHINELANDER WOMAN'S CHRISTIAN TEMPERANCE UNION

Press Committees: Mrs. Gonnells, Mrs. Howe, Mrs. E. K. Riek, Mrs. Emma Wilde, Mrs. C. P. Crosby.

We've All Heard These Questions: How Do You Answer Them?

A liquor dealer in the New York World asks these three questions: 1. Where are the millions of people who will be thrown out of employment and business to find a means of earning a living, and how is the financial loss to the various industries materially affected to be covered, in case of the adoption of National Prohibition?

The Christian Advocate well replies:

"When the liquor business has been banished from our land and the making of drunkards has ceased, there will be so much more demand for things useful in life that all the persons who have been thrown out of employment by the abolition of the rum traffic, will find ready occupation in the enlarged industrial and commercial life of the country. More boots and shoes, clothing and hats, food and furniture, and every other desirable thing will be required. Somebody must produce these things, and the money now invested in the liquor business will find its way into legitimate channels."

(For instance)—six billion loaves of bread, a great mountain—enough to give three loaves each day for a year to each of six million families,—might have been made from the grain more than wasted in the manufacture of alcoholic liquor last year. Again—the direct annual cost of the liquor traffic is more than one billion and three quarters, which, together with the indirect cost is estimated as amounting to about five billion dollars. If a great panic a few years ago was brought to an end by the importing of ninety million dollars to relieve the stringency, what a relief would be sure to come to present conditions if more than fifty times as much,—five billion dollars, could be turned into the channels of legitimate trade!—M. E. B. T.)

2. What is to become of the vast properties rendered useless, including the effects as well as the buildings now used by the brewers, distillers, etc., and how is the enormous loss of rentals to property owners to be covered?

"Turn over the properties to respectable users. They will be needed to meet the increased demand for the commodities and luxuries of life to which we have already referred. In the same way the supposed loss in real estate rental values will be entirely covered."

3. From what other source is the government to collect the enormous revenue it now receives from the several interests involved which the enactment of the Prohibition law will put out of business?

"The government which has the good sense to cut itself loose from the rum traffic will be clearheaded enough to find sources of revenue entirely adequate to its needs, without in the least degree debauching its people."

We might add that the several states, which for many years have been working under the much-decried prohibitory laws, have none of them found the least trouble in meeting every situation detailed in the above inquiries. Go to any one of them, east, or west, or south, and happy people. Every true patriot will rejoice when our whole land is in as truly prosperous a condition.

HEALTH

Weaklings Can't Work

I had the pleasure recently of visiting the medical and surgical department of a large Chicago corporation which employs from ten to twelve thousand people and looks after their health and physical condition as carefully as does the army or navy of the condition of soldiers and sailors. And there is no pretense that sentiment and "love of humanity" prompt this care. On the contrary, the medical department is frankly considered to be an essential cog in the organization of a business so large that it requires over ten thousand people to keep it going.

According to the physician who was in charge, every applicant for a position with the company is given a complete physical examination, so thorough that even the existence of a small corn on the foot is noted. "We have found," he said, "that even so slight a deformity as this prevents an employee from giving his very best service. By advice on proper shoes, furthermore, we can usually correct the disorder." After employment, an attempt is made to examine every employee once each year, and immediately in case of acute illness or evidence of a chronic illness manifested by a falling off in the individual's work or slackening interest in his job.

In addition to the five physicians and eleven nurses employed, the department has the whole time of a dentist who works in the best appointed dental office I have ever seen. Much general ill health is found to be due to defective teeth. When, therefore, an employee has sufficient mouth disorder to account for his physical unfitness, he is required to have his teeth properly cared for. On continued neglect or upon refusal to secure proper treatment, he is dismissed as an undesirable employee.

Last year, sixty-five cases of tuberculosis were discovered. It is significant of the value of the advice and examinations to the workers that of these sixty-five cases, forty-three were among new employees. In every instance, I believe, the disease was discovered early, when the chances for possible recovery were practically perfect. Not all of the work is cold blooded business, however, as the company maintains a cottage at a tuberculosis sanatorium for the care of its tuberculosis employees.

This wonderful company pays $80,000 per year for the maintenance of its medical department, and as I said above, testifies that the expenditure pays and is justified by "good business" considerations. While a small employer would not be justified in providing an elaborate medical department, it would be a fair question for him to ask himself if he can afford not to give a proportionate amount of attention to this important factor in business success. And the employee who isn't getting ahead as fast as he ought might ask himself if he may not be struggling against a physical handicap that prevents possibility of success.

WHY YOU ARE NERVOUS

The nervous system is the alarm system of the human body.

In perfect health we hardly realize that we have a network of nerves, but when health is ebbing, when strength is declining, the same nervous system gives the alarm in headaches, tiredness, dreamful sleep, irritability and unless corrected, leads straight to a breakdown.

To correct nervousness, Scott's Emulsion is exactly what you should take; its rich nutriment gets into the blood and rich blood feeds the tiny nerve-cells while the whole system responds to its refreshing tonic force. It is free from alcohol. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hare's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

HE APPEALS TO THE GOOD JUDGE FOR HELP

SOME men have tried so long to find tobacco that would satisfy them, that they are naturally a little skeptical when they first hear of the Real Tobacco Chew.

But once they get the good tobacco taste they want to help other men. That's why they tell one another about it.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough—cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW IS NOW CUT TWO WAYS!
W-B CUT IS LONG SHRED, RIGHT CUT IS SHORT SHRED.

Take less than one-quarter the old size chew. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just take a nibble of it until you find the strength chew that suits you, then see how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is the Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end. The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up. An excess of licorice and sweetening makes you spit too much.

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

(Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste.)

PRaises LANDS OF ONEIDA COUNTY

Milwaukee, July 15, 1915.
Mr. C. P. Crosby,
Rhineland, Wis.
Dear Sir:

I have just returned from a trip of inspection of your holdings in Oneida county. I spent several days inspecting your land and found everything substantially as advertised and information given by your company. From observation and information gathered from farmers who have been long residents of this country I find that they grow all kinds of crops successfully, also all kinds of garden vegetables do exceptionally well, as for potato raising I do not think a more favored locality exists in the United States.

I found that your land is considerable first class farming land covered with a large number of fine lakes stocked with the finest kind of fish. The lakes, rivers and streams are the most beautiful spots to be found. In conclusion I want to say to any person who reads this (especially by those without a home of their own) that the Crosby lands lying in the heart of the United States and at the doors of the best markets offers one of the best opportunities I ever saw. A dollar deposited in that land beats a hundred fold, any allurement held out by any bank to induce you to open a deposit account with them.

Money deposited in good land will not run away between two suns nor can thieves break through and steal it and it will soon provide a substantial home which sixty per cent of the people do not have.

Thanking you for the courtesy in showing me over your land and wishing you success for future business, I remain

Respectfully yours truly,
T. P. LINGBAUER.

MANY VISITORS

The Chautauqua this week has brought many people from the neighboring towns to Rhineland. Yearly every section of the county has sent delegations and Eagle River, Crandon, North Crandon and other towns outside the county have also been represented. The new Watersmeet-Rhineland passenger train on the Northwestern line has daily carried its quota of Chautauqua patrons. Many of the visitors have taken advantage of the opportunity to do trading while here and several of the merchants report increased sales. The hotels and restaurants have also felt the effects of the Chautauqua.

More land is being cleared in Douglas county than in any other county within 100 miles of here, according to W. H. Webb.

Ten times more land is being cleared in this county than in Carlton which for many years has been settling up at a very rapid rate, and for a time was being cleared up fully as fast as the territory tributary to Superior.

"Money is comparatively cheap and plentiful, and labor is cheaper now than it has been for years," responsible for the great land activity. After the European war, said Mr. Webb, "These factors are and even if the war does not end next year, wages will be soaring."

Most of the farmers in Douglas county who are clearing land are putting large areas under cultivation. Some are clearing several hundred acres and few are clearing less than 50 acres. The land is being cleared of stumps as well as brush so that when the work is done the land will be ready for the breaking plows.—Superior Telegram.

According to a recent dispatch from Washington, the people of the west who have had a hundred millions of dollars spent—largely squandered—on their irrigation projects are not yet satisfied. The government started out to build dams and ditches to bring water to the border of the farms on ten years time without interest. It was found that conditions were such that the settlers could not make the payments and the time was changed to 20 years without interest.

Later it was found that settlers would not come unless the government would still farther and made the ditches through the farms. Still later it was found that much of the irrigated lands had to be tile drained and that even on the 20 year basis payments had to be passed.

Now it is proposed that the settlers as well as the projects must be capitalized—and what next? The fact is that the government projects as a whole are a failure. It is not time that the congressmen of the middle west, where there yet is a large amount of good land next to markets, discovered the fact that the government is pouring out its money where it will do the least good?

There is more good vacant land in Wisconsin than the government will ever irrigate. If it is to be our policy to prepare land for cultivation, why not do it where the homeseekers want to go and where they will be successful—that is in Wisconsin.

What have Wisconsin congressmen to say on this subject?

Mr. Farmer: If there is enough decaying vegetable matter in your soil it will neither puddle nor bake. Did you ever think of that and how to get the vegetable matter there in this great clover region?

MAY 1

Brown: "That piece of road at Thompson's ought to be fixed."

Smith: "I reckon we ought to get it at it—we can do it in an hour and it spoils miles of good roads."

Jones: "I really think we ought to get it at it."

MAY 5

Brown: "We ain't got around to fix that road at Thompson's."

Jones: "We ought to have done it yesterday when it rained and we couldn't do anything else."

Smith: "Yes, we could have fixed it after the rain."

Grocer: "I broke a wheel there yesterday that cost me $10—that is more than it would have cost to fix that place."

MAY 10

Smith: "That hole at Thompson's ain't been fixed yet."

Jones: "No, it does beat all how we let things go."

Brown: "Let's get at that place—I broke a tug there and it cost me three dollars for a new one and we could have fixed the place when the fields were too wet to cultivate."

MAY 15

Brown: "That hole in the road at Thompson's ain't so bad now."

Smith: "No, we can get through now—we don't need to fix it right away."

Jones: "Well, let's let it go until it gets bad again."

And the hole isn't fixed yet.
